fun date ideas

for her

Take a walk or ride your bikes together at a new place you haven't been before.

Go to Barnes and Noble or another local bookstore, pick out a book together, grab some coffee and take turns reading to one another.

You are never too old to learn, and museums never stop being fun to visit! Check out a local museum that is featuring an interesting, new exhibit and maybe a stroll through an art district afterwards.

Take Me Out to the Ball Game - Grab some hot dogs at the snack bar and root for your favorite team.

Love the feeling of the wind in your hair?

Get your hands on a convertible (maybe you own one, know someone who owns one, or get a rental), let the top down and just go for a drive with no destination in mind.

Helicopter Ride - This idea is for the more daring, fearless couples. Being high in the air, but still close enough to see the land, is an excellent sightseeing experience. Try to do this one near a city. Flying around landmarks and big buildings is a rush!

Play a sport with him: throw the baseball, toss a football, ride a bike. He will love it.

Weekend Getaway -Who said dates have to last one night? Rent a cabin out in the middle of nowhere and enjoy the peaceful time spent alone. Plan something you will both enjoy, and maybe even something that neither of you have done before. Have fun.

Pick one of your or your spouse's favorite childhood memories and spend a day together recreating it! Or, choose your favorite activity, your favorite food, and/or your favorite place and go make some new memories together!

Find a recipe together, buy all the ingredients together and make a dinner and dessert to share with one another. Have fun and be creative!

Go roller skating or ice skating and hold hands like when you were kids!

Walk around Niagara Falls at night time for the light show and grab a coffee at a local coffee shop.

Create a romantic evening at a local park for just the two of you. Carry your picnic basket full of goodies with you, and don't forget the blanket. If it's a slightly windy day, you may even want to bring along some kites!

Download a sky map at fourmilab.ch/yoursky. Point to a star, mark its location, and make a monthly date to see if you can find it again.

Horse drawn carriage/sleigh rides are one of the most romantic activities to partake in. Why not treat your lady to a nice stroll in one?

Take a newspaper article and circle all the words that best describe her and then have her read it back to you. In addition leave her love notes all over the house and her car.
